25C ON THE DOLLAR.

Creditors in Feiner Bankruptcy Vote to Accept that Settlement.

It is expected that the offer of composition in the Feiner case will go through and that the estate will be quickly wound up unless something new turns up to prevent, as the examination of witnesses conducted by Attorney George E. Hinman before Referee in Bankruptcy in the board of trade rooms Tuesday, tended to indicate there has been no particular evidence brought out in any of the hearings that there has been any crookedness in any of the claims presented against the estate, and if such were the case in a few instances it would not materially change the result. As the majority of the creditors have voted to accept the composition offer of 25 cents on the dollar.

Tuesday afternoon, the trustees, with his attorney, the referee, the bankrupt, and the latter's attorney, held a meeting to figure up the expenses and preferred claims in the case. It is expected that the money to guarantee these claims will be put up by Mr. Feiner and then he will go ahead and pay his creditors 25 cents on the dollar.

Considerable time was spent by Attorney Hinman in examining Mr. Feiner and the most of the time was consumed in questioning him with regard to the various notes. Mr. Feiner told of having but $200 in cash when he commenced business in this city and $2,000 in stock and he purchased $2,000 more stock. He stated that he owed but 10 per cent. to his Providence creditors when he resumed business.

At the close of the hearing Attorney Hinman stated that the bankrupt had assisted the trustee in every way possible by going over the books and all the notes. The referee said that he saw no reason for prolonging the matter and therefore the hearing was closed.

Peddler's Cart Attached to Bill.

Constable Chauncey E. Macfarlane attached the peddler's cart of Charles Haddad on Milk street at noon Monday, on a writ sworn out by Boston dry goods firm for a bill of $100. The writ is returnable before Justice of the Peace P. J. Danahy on Monday, February 22, at 10 a. m.

NORWICH, NEW LONDON, WESTERY

Only Dead Ones, in Opinion of Local Baseball Enthusiasts.

Mayor Dunn and Major Manley are beginning to wonder if the baseball fans in Norwich and New London, as personified in Denny Hayes and Charles Humphrey, the men who were apparently so ambitious to launch the Connecticut Trolley league, have become lost in obscurity.

The three city promoters are anxiously awaiting for some tangible and visible signs of life from the men down the line and are of the opinion that Norwich, New London and Westery might better be styled two-cent cities than Willimantic. The mayor and Mr. Manley did not receive any notification of the fact that there was not to be any meeting in Norwich last Tuesday.

Thursday, but obtained the information from a newspaper published in the State of New England, the morning of the scheduled meeting.

"Willimantic," said the mayor on Tuesday, "is not worrying any over the proposition, but is simply desirous to know what attitude the three cities down below contemplate taking in the affair, as the Thread city can get into a league all right, and will do so very shortly." The mayor said there would be no difficulty about that part of it, as the towns west of here are clamoring for a league and it will be an easy matter for Willimantic to get busy and take the initiative and tie up with some such towns as Middletown, South Manchester and Rockville or Bristol.

Major Manley said: "If the bunch down below do not think that the league as proposed is a sure winner, they would be the fools. He said other such league if they desire." If there is to be a meeting the Willimantic fans would like to know about it, that is all.

Fred W. Gerrick Declines Appointment.

The appointments and elections for various city officials have practically been completed. The new superintendent of streets is Edwin O. Summer. His record in the past is a good one.

Fred W. Gerrick, who was elected third assistant fire engineer, stated most emphatically Tuesday afternoon that he would not accept the position that he had been quoted as saying that he was out for the job and that he had a good man working in his interests, which was absolutely false, as he had not sought the appointment in any way and had at no time been approached by any one for the position.

He also said that if he had been so approached he would have declined to stand for an election as third engineer.

OBITUARY.

Miss Cornelia W. Bingham.

Miss Cornelia Witter Bingham, aged 63 died at the home of Mrs. William Ross in Chaplin at 12:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, following a short illness.

Miss Bingham was a native of the town and had lived all her life here. She was born in the Bingham family, the daughter of Eleazar and Sarah (Lillie) Bingham. Miss Bingham had been married to Mr. William Ross, who was a member of the Congregational church of Chaplin and of the Christian Society of Bingham.

For a number of years she had made her home with Mrs. Ross, who has been a close friend all her life. No near relatives survive.

Miss Bingham was taken ill about two weeks ago, and her condition became rapidly worse until it was deemed advisable to have a surgical operation, which she underwent Monday. The surgeons found another serious trouble, and her condition was such that she could not rally.

Supt. E. O. Summer Begins Duties.

Superintendent of Streets Edwin O. Summer assumed his duties for the city Tuesday morning. He was kept busy with gangs of men in the street cleaning department, clearing away the snow and slush on the principal crosswalks of the most traveled thoroughfares.

Trotting on Lower Main Street.

The speedway on Lower Main street was alive with fast trotters Tuesday afternoon, making the most of the fast disappearing sleighing. Donnybrook took over four turns over the course as did County Beater and a few more of the promising ones that have a large following of local admirers.

COBURN TO SUE

Because American Worsted Yarn Co. Did Not Take Factory No. 2.

It is stated, but not confirmed, that L. J. Coburn has taken means to recover damages from the American Worsted Yarn company for failure to fulfill their agreement to take over factory No. 2 at Industrial place. It was understood at the time the sale of the factory was announced that the representatives of the yarn company had given Mr. Coburn a check for $500 to bind the agreement. It is understood that Mr. Coburn's action has been instituted in Massachusetts.
